VIRTUAL PROJECT MANAGEMENT

Thoughtful & Modernised Project Delivery

The transformation of businesses and business models onto digital platforms with processes running in the cloud has started many years ago. Projects and Project Management is the blue prints for the future of many business owners. That however, raises the question "how do we prepare ourselves as individuals and the company for 2030 and beyond and "what can we do today to sustain in the future?"

We in PMCC have an answer to those questions and we have very cost efficient solutions available for you:

The first step is to change perception that every action has to be performed from 9 to 5 and it has to be in the office. It is maybe true for creative workers or problem solvers to have face to face brainstorming's to activate creativity. However, to take action it can be done from any place in the world at any time as long there is a good internet connection.

The new perception is, to look at the outcome and how much time and cost it took to achieve that outcome. It can be compared with online shopping. A couple of years ago, we went to a shop to purchase goods. It took the e-commerce platforms some time to build trust with simple online shopping processes and options in case of late delivery, bad quality etc. Today, online shopping is very normal and we return to the same shopping platform and supplier because we know they deliver, the quality is good, it's the best price and if there is a problem, I have friendly and efficient collaboration and that is usually 24/7.

There we come in with virtual project management or, sometimes referred to as a Geographically Dispersed Team (GDT). It is the supervision, leadership, and maintenance of virtual teams. It is remote working by outsourcing specific work packages to PMCC to be performed by expert specialists to deliver higher value for a specific job.
In many ways it has been proven over the latest pandemic time that working remotely with a specialist network is very efficient and cost saving. It's becoming a necessity for a number of reasons:

• There are advantages to securing the best talent wherever they might live.
• Project management software and online collaboration tools are plenty available. We adopt what you prefer or we offer our platforms.
• Learning is critical. We train your team with our specialists and proven processes.
• You don't need to hire people which is a tedious long lead time process.
• We are available for just the time and work package you need us. No additional cost or idle time.
• You got too many projects to handle and you need a iPMO manager to get over the peak.
• You have a challenging project and the contract requirements are above your standard delivery. You need expert support to solve the current problems and gain confidence with your Client that you can deliver.
